

ALLISON KIGER BIOGRAPHY

Flutist Allison Kiger has played flute with the Allentown Symphony for over 15 years. In 2019, she appeared on the Arts at St. John's series in Allentown. She has also performed in the Lehigh Valley with the Pennsylvania Sinfonia and the Concord Chamber Singers and regularly with the South Florida Symphony, and the Garden State Philharmonic, and also occasionally with the Binghamton Philharmonic, Albany Symphony, Chelsea Symphony, Springfield Symphony (MA) and the New Jersey Symphony. Allison has degrees in flute performance from Indiana University, McGill University, and the Royal Academy of Music, and was the Winner of the San Diego Flute Guild Young Artist Competition. She recently toured with a recital program "The 20th Century American Character," as reflected in the music of Piston, Barber, Copland, Gershwin, and Valerie Coleman. Currently, she is Flute Soloist, Associate Director and Curator of the New Composers Program at the Bar Harbor Music Festival in Maine.